Canary Island Adventure

This adventure is suitable for all, but particularly inspiring for those interested in Barefoot Navigating! Experience the thrill and challenge of an offshore voyage, and open your eyes to the beauty of celestial navigation.

Itinerary

After a safety brief, and a meet and greet of your fellow adventurers on Sunday, we depart for our non-stop passage to Lanzarote in the Canary Islands. En route you will form part of a watch system, and learn the rudiments of navigation the traditional way from the stars, planets, moon and sun. Arrival in Lanzarote will be on Thursday, giving three full days to relax and explore the island before we head back to sea. This route invariably brings us in to contact with a host of marine wild life and natural phenomena most of us know only from the Discovery Channel.

Whilst the adventure is suitable for all, it also fulfils the requirements for the offshore passage necessary for the RYA Yachtmaster Ocean endorsement. Contact us for more information. It is also a great way to get 1300 nm's under your keel, which amounts to a little over half the required mileage for the RYA Yachtmaster Offshore.

Our new 50 ft yacht has all the modern day luxuries including 5 private cabins 2 with en suite, on demand mains electricity supply, hot and cold running water, flat screen tv, chart plotter and loads more.
